CHILD CARE EXPENSES PAID

A child care credit may be allowed if you paid someone to care for your children while you either worked or because medical issues prevented you from caring for them yourself.

For each individual or company paid, we need:

- That person's (or company's) name.
- Address.
- Social security number (or EIN—employer identification number, if a company).
- Amount paid.

(Note: any amounts reimbursed through a company pre-tax program cannot be counted towards this credit.)
